

Notes on the Contributors

Professor Tobias Diebel

Born 1963, studied political science, sociology and development economics at the University of Bonn; Professor of International Relations and Development Policy, Director of the Institute for Development and Peace (INEF), University of Duisburg-Essen

Elena Hesselmann

Born 1981, studied political science at the University of Münster; Researcher at the Institute for Development and Peace (INEF), University of Duisburg-Essen

Professor Johannes Jäger

Born 1971, undergraduate and doctoral studies in economics at Vienna University of Economics and Business Administration; Head of the Economics Department at the University of Applied Sciences BFI Vienna

Karin Küblböck

Born 1969, studied economics and political science at the Universities of Vienna and Buenos Aires; Researcher in world economics at the Austrian Research Foundation for International Development (ÖFSE); Lecturer on development economics at the University of Vienna

Professor Claus Leggewie

Born 1950, studied social sciences and history in Cologne and Paris; Professor of Political Science; since 2007, Director of the Institute for Advanced Study in the Humanities, Essen; member of the German Advisory Council on Global Change (WBGU)

Professor Dirk Messner

Born 1962, studied political science and economics at the Free University of Berlin and Sogang University, Seoul; Director of the German Development Institute (DIE); Vice Chair of the German Advisory Council on Global Change (WBGU); Lecturer in political science at the University of Duisburg-Essen

Professor Andreas Novy

Born 1962, studied economics at Vienna University of Economics and Business Administration; Associate Professor at the Institute for Regional and Environmental Economics, Vienna University of Economics and Business Administration; Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Austrian Research Foundation for International Development (ÖFSE)

Professor Stefan Rahmstorf

Born 1960, studied physics at the Universities of Ulm and Konstanz and physical oceanography at the University of Wales (Bangor); climate researcher at Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research; Professor in Physics of the Oceans at Potsdam University

Dr Michèle Roth

Born 1973, studied political science, history and German literature at the Universities of Konstanz and Bonn; Executive Director of the Development and Peace Foundation (SEF), Bonn

Dr Cornelia Ulbert

Born 1965, studied political science, German and philosophy at the Universities of Tübingen, Heidelberg and the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE); Executive Director of the Institute for Development and Peace (INEF), University of Duisburg-Essen

Professor Herbert Wulf

Born 1939, studied social sciences at the Universities of Cologne, Mannheim and Hamburg; Research Associate at Bonn International Center for Conversion (BICC); Adjunct Senior Researcher at the Institute for Development and Peace (INEF), University of Duisburg-Essen